Still Young, Still Restless

Ah, they look so good together! All smiles. Almost lovey dovey... Yet that is far from the truth of their myriad of plot lines in "The Young and The Restless."

He (or his Kevin Fisher character) has committed statutory rape, attempted murder, arson, breaking and entering, stealing government money, assault and computer hacking. And worse. When he had unlawful sex with her character of Lily Winters, he gave her chlamydia, a common sexually transmitted disease.

That's the way of it in Genoa City, home of the never-ending soap, where actor Greg Rikaart has been residing for the last five years, as bad boy Kevin, with Christel Khalil as Lily.

Born to a Pakistani father and an African American mother in LA, Khalil had small roles in movies such as "Interview With the Assassin" and "White Like the Moon."

Greg Rikaart, 31, goes a tad further - 434 shows since 2003. Within two years later he had won the Daytime Emmy for Outstanding Supporting Actor. Not bad going as the Villanova University graduate was originally hired the mentally unstable internet predator... for just ten shows!
